1. Paying your employees

Claim for 80% of your employee's wages up to a maximum of £2,500 a month plus any employer National Insurance and pension contributions, if you have put them on furlough (not working) because of coronavirus via the Coronavirus Job Retention Scheme

[<https://www.gov.uk/guidance/claim-for-wages-through-the-coronavirus-job-retention-scheme>].

Employees must have been on PAYE / payroll on or before 19 March 2020. Furloughed staff cannot work for or on behalf of the organisation or any associated organisation. The Scheme is extended until 31 October 2020, with companies having to contribute to salaries for employees that return part time from 1 August 2020. The scheme will close to new entrants from 30 June.

Part-time furloughing

From 1 July 2020, businesses using the scheme will have the flexibility to bring previously furloughed employees back to work part time – with the government continuing to pay 80% of wages for any of their normal hours they do not work up until the end of August. This flexibility comes a month earlier than previously announced to help people get back to work.

Employers will decide the hours and shift patterns their employees will work on their return, and will be responsible for paying their wages in full while working. This means that employees can work as much or as little as the business needs, with no minimum time that they can furlough staff for.

Employer contributions

From August, the government grant provided through the job retention scheme will be slowly tapered.

- In June and July, the government will pay 80% of wages up to a cap of £2,500 as well as employer National Insurance (ER NICs) and pension contributions for the hours the employee doesn't work – employers will have to pay employees for the hours they work.
- In August, the government will continue to pay 80% of wages up to a cap of £2,500 but employers will pay ER NICs and pension contributions – for the average claim, this represents 5% of the gross employment costs that they would have incurred if the employee had not been furloughed.

- In September, the government will pay 70% of wages up to a cap of £2,187.50 for the hours the employee does not work but employers will pay ER NICs, pension contributions and 10% of wages to make up 80% of the total up to a cap of £2,500.
- In October, the government will pay 60% of wages up to a cap of £1,875 for the hours the employee does not work but employers will pay ER NICs, pension contributions and 20% of wages to make up 80% of the total up to a cap of £2,500.
- The cap on the furlough grant will be proportional to the hours not worked.

Many smaller employers have some or all of their employer NIC bills covered by the Employment Allowance so will not be significantly impacted by that part of the tapering of the government contribution.

It is important to note that the scheme will close to new entrants from 30 June 2020. From this point onwards, employers will only be able to furlough employees that they have furloughed for a full three-week period prior to 30 June.

This means that the final date by which an employer can furlough an employee for the first time will be 10 June for the current three-week furlough period to be completed by 30 June. Employers will have until 31 July to make any claims in respect of the period to 30 June.

2. Paying sick pay

The Coronavirus Statutory Sick Pay Rebate Scheme

[<https://www.gov.uk/guidance/claim-back-statutory-sick-pay-paid-to-employees-due-to-coronavirus-covid-19>]
will repay employers the current rate of Statutory Sick Pay (SSP) that they pay to current or former employees for periods of coronavirus-related sickness starting on or after 13 March 2020.

You can claim back employees' coronavirus-related SSP using the online service [<https://www.gov.uk/guidance/claim-back-statutory-sick-pay-paid-to-your-employees-due-to-coronavirus-covid-19>].

3. Paying tax

VAT

If you're a UK VAT registered business and have a VAT payment due between 20 March 2020 and 30 June 2020, you have the option to:

- defer the payment until a later date, you do not need to tell HMRC you are deferring your VAT payment
- pay the VAT due as normal

When the VAT payment deferral period ends on 30 June 2020 you will need to set-up cancelled direct debits in enough time for HMRC to take payment, submit your VAT returns as normal and on time and pay the VAT in full on payments due after 30 June. Any VAT payments you have deferred between 20 March and 30 June should be paid in full on or before 31 March 2021. You can make additional payments with subsequent returns.

It does not cover payments for VAT MOSS or import VAT. HMRC will not charge interest or penalties on any amount deferred as a result of the Chancellor's announcement. You must continue to submit future VAT returns to HMRC by the deadlines.

Further information is available here

[<https://www.gov.uk/guidance/deferral-of-vat-payments-due-to-coronavirus-covid-19>]

Self-Assessment tax

The deadlines for paying your tax bill are usually:

- 31 January for any tax you owe for the previous tax year (known as a balancing payment) and your first payment on account
- 31 July for your second payment on account

Because of coronavirus you can delay making the second payment on account. If you choose to delay, you'll have until 31 January 2021 to pay it. Further information is available here [<https://www.gov.uk/pay-self-assessment-tax-bill>]

4. Business rates relief and business support grant funds

If you think you may be eligible for any non-domestic rates relief, such as the Small Business Support Grant, contact your local council for further information including eligibility.

Retail, hospitality and leisure businesses that were occupied and had to close temporarily due to the Government's advice on coronavirus will receive 100% non-domestic rates relief.

Rates relief is available on non-domestic properties from 1 April 2020-31 March 2021 and will be automatically applied to the bill you receive from your local council.

The primary intention of the fund is to help third sector organisations to stabilise and manage cash flows over this difficult period. To apply, organisations must complete an eligibility checker [<https://scvo.org/support/coronavirus/funding/scottish-government/third-sector-resilience-fund/eligibility-checker>].

You must have been self-employed in the tax year 2017-2018 and have submitted your Self Assessment tax return for that year. You must also meet all other eligibility criteria and confirm to HMRC that being a new parent affected your trading profits or total income in the tax year 2019 to 2019.
